SAN DIEGO -- The political fallout over the Sunroad Enterprises' Centrum building in Kearny Mesa heated up Tuesday.

City Attorney Mike Aguirre and other city officials said they want Mayor Jerry Sanders to stop all work on the site. They also want Sunroad to submit new plans to bring the building down.

Aguirre said, "We are asking the mayor today to sign a stop work order... that would put an end to any construction on the Sunroad property."

Tuesday afternoon, work continued on the controversial building near Montgomery Field.

Aguirre is in dispute with Sanders over his handling of the Sunroad building, which exceeds FAA safety regulations. It stands 20 feet too tall.

Last October, the city ordered Sunroad to stop working on the top two floors of the building.

But Aguirre and other city leaders have repeatedly said, that's not enough.

Councilmember Donna Frye said, "We should not allow people in the building to work on the tenant improvements. We need to have a complete work stop notice."

Frye said letters to the mayor requesting a complete work stop have been ignored.

Rick Beach, president of the Community Airfields Association of San Diego said, "Pilots have to follow the rules, so why don't developers?"

Aguirre said the issue is now in the hands of the mayor.

"We don't have to squabble anymore -- we don't have to fight anymore --there's no more back and forth," Aguirre said.
